School Seeks a Monitor

A job posting for the wall in the auditorium.

17 September 2026, Tobias Engl

The Gymnasium am Stadtpark is looking to add a new feature to its auditorium and lobby for the upcoming school year. This is a permanent position, preferably long-term. We're not looking for a person, but for a screen that can do what a bulletin board never could.

Your Responsibilities

Display the substitute teacher schedule in the morning before the first class, not just during the long break. Announce events, exams, and field trips. Show the cafeteria menu. In an emergency, switch to an alert message in seconds.

You bring

Up-to-date functionality without requiring any maintenance. The languages spoken by our student body. A font that can be scaled up. The ability to integrate with our existing scheduling system. Reliability, even when the Wi-Fi goes down. And the commitment to not collect any data on our students.

We offer

A permanent spot on a prominent wall. Electricity and an internet connection that cuts out from time to time. And the undivided attention of eight hundred pairs of eyes, every morning anew.

We have already received one application. ScreenWay has everything we need, handles billing on-site, and is well-established in Europe. The selection process should be brief.
